AFA is now able to order inspections and monitor applicants and members of the association through VTS. This new capability will simplify the vetting process of all new members and allow safe and compliant storage of all documents. This procedure has put every AFA member that utilizes VTS in front of the lenders who utilizes the system.

This partnership in technology will give VTS the ability to bring over three hundred compliance trained recovery and bonded professionals to the forefront of all lenders that work directly with the VTS's Compliance Monitoring System. The recovery industry once again has rapidly evolved over the past few years with new regulations, requirements and expectations. AFA is evolving side by side with the lenders to provide the most up to date business tools, keeping our members and their employees up to date and informed on the ongoing changes in our industry. "We will continue to be the leader and through our partnerships like VTS, we can stay ahead of the curve that is the political environment we do business in today.", Said, James Osselburn, Second VP, Allied Finance Adjusters.
