

Mabelle Morris is the foremost national legal expert on issues relating to repossession and security interest enforcement. She has spent over twenty years focusing on repossession laws and regulations, and small business survival. She is currently on retainer for Allied Finance Adjusters Association, as the go-to legal advisor for the Association and its members.

With so many years in the industry, she has developed a vast knowledge of repossession laws in every State, as well as an understanding of how state and federal regulations affect repossession businesses across the country.

She was involved in creating and maintaining an online account management system for repossession businesses. She helped frame a comprehensive written course to train collateral recovery specialists. And she has advised a host of recovery agents on real-world compliance issues and contract issues.

Over the years, Mabelle has taught and tested repossessioners and their employers about the changing legal environment affecting their industry on many occasions. She was invited to (and did) sit on a roundtable panel to inform Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) members about collateral recovery and its effect on military service members. Several State laws directly reflect her input to the legislature on behalf of repossession business owners.

Mabelle is licensed to practice law in Texas, New Mexico and Washington. She is a qualified mediator/arbitrator; and is a member of the Intellectual Property Law and Consumer Law Sections of the State Bar of Texas. She is also a licensed auctioneer; and is available as an expert witness on issues of collateral recovery and financial vendor compliance.
